Missing Man Located.

Insurance companies have succeeded in locating in New Orleans a man who claims he is A. J. Fenn, of Cordele, Ga., who disappeared suddenly from his home in April, 1910, and whose life Mrs. A. J. Fenn is attempting to collect $10,000 insurance.

The man who claims to be Fenn, says that when he learned that efforts were being made to recover under his insurance policies, he notified the companies and started for home. At that time, he says, he was in New Mexico, when he had been living since he disappeared from Cordele. He claims he left home quietly because of financial difficulties.

After her husband's disappearance, Mrs. Fenn instituted suit under the policies. W. R. H. Roberts and J. S. Land testified at the trial that Fenn fell out of a boat and had been seen no more. According to the testimony the three men were drifting down the Apalachicola river, toward Bradenton, Fla., when Fenn stood up in the boat and the toppling into the stream. Mrs. Fenn obtained judgment for $10,000 against one of the companies, and the other two are pending in the Georgia supreme court. The companies offered a $2500 reward for information concerning Fenn's whereabouts.

The business men of the city paid him the compliment of making him president of the Business Men's club. He showed his catholic spirit in the good work he did toward securing for Richmond its new Young Men's Christian association building. Mr. Sills's Richmond friends congratulate him upon the new honor which has come to him."

ily he carried insurance at his death we never found any insurance policies or receipts; my father was a man who owned considerable property and we have reason to believe he carried life insurance. I thought possibly through the medium of your journal you might be able to call this matter to the attention of life insurance companies, as I have read that the Mutual Life and other companies employed a man whose duty it was to look up such matters. THE THIN AND SCRAWNY

Will Make You Plump and Rosy. Schramm-Johnson Drug Co.

You are getting thin you are sick, you may not know it. If you gain weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. You have always been thin it follows that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot tell if you are thin.

Then to be healthy and plump, it is difficult if you know how.

The easy way to increase the weight of the body and flesh is by using the standard flesh forming food the builder. It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated so that the flesh forming and tissue building elements of the food are retained in the body. This explains the great value of the builder.

Try yourself before you begin. It will not cost you a cent to increase your weight and recover your health.

Schramm-Johnson Drug Co. sells the builder on a genuine guarantee to return the money if it does not do all claimed for it.
